REMARKS

Counsel for Applicant wishes to express his appreciation to Examiner Paul Royal for the courtesy of the telephone conference had on May 25, 2002.

As counsel pointed out in the telephone conversation, the thought provoking Office Action is also appreciated. Claims 1 and 10 have been amended to more succinctly point out the differences between the present invention and the art of record. The present invention is designed to permit ease in insertion and removal of the notice in the pocket chamber. The claim now recites that the ends of the glue strip stop are spaced a substantial distance from the side edges of the panels. This arrangement prevents binding of a notice when inserted or when removed from the pocket chamber. If the glue strip 6 extended all the way over to the edges, the notice inserted would tend to bind and at times be difficult to position as well as to remove. The spacing of the glue strip substantially above the glue strip of the flap also adds to ease and release or positioning. None of the references cited by the Examiner disclose this particular feature of the stop member with which is so important as to avoid tearing or otherwise mutilating a notice inserted into the chamber.

It should also be noted that a substantial number of the claims have been cancelled in view of the art cited in the Office Action by the Examiner Paul Royal.

Since none of the art teaches the invention as now claimed whether taken individually or in combination, this case is now believed to be in condition for allowance and an early and favorable action is earnestly solicited.

It is believed that no fee is due for this submission. However, should that determination be incorrect, the Examiner is hereby authorized to charge any deficiencies to our Deposit Account No. 19-2105 and notify the undersigned in due course.
